INDIAN PUEBLO CULTURAL CENTER ANNOUNCES RECEPTION FOR 2022 NATIVE AMERICAN YOUTH ART SHOW

EVENT HIGHLIGHTS NATIVE YOUTH ART CREATED TO HONOR “SUPERHEROES” IN THEIR LIVES

Albuquerque, NM (October 26, 2022)—The Indian Pueblo Cultural Center is hosting an opening reception for this year’s Native American Youth Art Show on Saturday, Oct. 29 from 1 – 4 p.m. The exhibit will be on display from Oct. 29 to Jan. 9 in the Artist Circle Gallery. The opening reception is free to museum members, or with admission.

The event was established in 1979 to encourage creativity among Native youth, and to help them recognize the future preservation and evolution of Native culture lies with them, according to IPCC Head Curator Paula Mirabal.

“This year, we’ve invited our Native youth to submit renditions of their personal superheroes – the places, people, or things that help them see the beauty in the world,” Mirabal said. “We’re hoping they can share their unique perspectives and be opened to the importance and viability of art as a future for themselves and their communities’ way of life.

“This art show gives them an opportunity to shine. We hope everyone can come out and support our Native young people as they showcase their work.”

Submissions are from multiple mediums, such as paintings, sculpture, drawing, and mixed media. Winning artists will receive a prize; additionally, participants can make their works available for sale, receiving 100% of the proceeds.
