INDIAN PUEBLO CULTURAL CENTER ANNOUNCES A LIMITED TIME EXPERIENCE

Albuquerque, NM, Feb. 10, 2025 —The Indian Pueblo Cultural Center (IPCC) is bringing a new event to its campus with “IPCC Presents: Pueblo Immersion,” a dynamic experience of Pueblo culture running from March 1 through April 12. This event will take the place of the usual outdoor cultural dances as IPCC works to renovate and update its courtyard.

This new experience begins in the Indian Pueblo Kitchen (IPK), located inside IPCC. Visitors will enjoy a Pueblo lunch featuring IPK’s award winning Indian taco.

Each day of the event will feature its own unique presentation such as Pueblo dancers, artist demonstrations, flute performances and lectures. Finally, visitors will be taken on a guided tour of the IPCC museum, learning the story of the Pueblo People from precolonial times to the present day and discovering their legacy of resilience through their own words and voices.

Since its opening in 1976, IPCC’s courtyard has been one of the many places on the campus where visitors can experience Pueblo art and culture firsthand by buying directly from Pueblo artists, viewing its vibrant murals, and seeing cultural dances from local Pueblos. IPCC’s Pueblo Immersion aims to provide visitors with an equally engaging cultural experience as the courtyard is renovated. Improvements to the

About the Indian Pueblo Cultural Center:

Founded in 1976 by the 19 Pueblo tribes of New Mexico, the Indian Pueblo Cultural Center is a world-class museum and cultural center located in the historic 19 Pueblos District. The Mission of the IPCC Campus is to serve as a gathering place where Pueblo culture is celebrated through creative and cultural experiences while providing economic opportunities to Pueblo and local communities. Visitors can learn fascinating history, shop for Native jewelry and art, watch a cultural dance, hear Native languages and experience the flavors of traditional and contemporary Native cuisine. To learn more, please visit www.indianpueblo.org and www.facebook.com/IndianPueblo.

About the Indian Pueblo Kitchen

Located inside the Indian Pueblo Cultural Center, the Indian Pueblo Kitchen offers guests an unforgettable Indigenous dining experience that showcases our creative, Native American culinary artistry and celebrated Pueblo hospitality. Indian Pueblo Kitchen is owned and operated by New Mexico’s 19 Pueblos and proudly features the flavors of our Native communities in homemade stews, fresh breads, bakery items and savory sauces. Our creations are inspired by historical Pueblo traditions and recipes and utilize ingredients such as red and green chile, blue corn and our harvest of fresh local produce and spices. Each dish is prepared with care by a team of Pueblo heritage. Our staff’s culinary talents, passion, and traditions are part of the
